In Europe and select U.S. states where utilities are unbundled, suppliers may face significant constraints due to lack of payments or delayed payments. During our 10th June webinar on regulatory tariffs considerations due to the pandemic, experts will discuss:

- What are the potential impacts on cost recovery plans?
- As a growing number of customers default on their electricity/gas bills, what happens if bad debts are transferred from the supplier to the utilities and tensions regarding payment transfers increase?
- What is the appropriate role of the regulator in ensuring the financial viability of electricity firms in competitive markets?
